Public Lands Donated to Oregon.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, SALEM, OGN., October 13, 1866.

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly: I have the honor to herewith transmit to you a communication received by me from my predecessor, Hon. A. C. Gibbs, in relation to the public lands, which embraces all the information now in my possession pertaining to that subject.

PORTLAND, Oct. 6th, 1866.

SIR: By acts of Congress the State is entitled to public lands as follows: Seventy-two sections for a State university; second, ten sections for public buildings; third, all salt springs not exceeding twelve in number, with six sections of land adjoining each; fourth, five hundred thousand acres, granted under act of September 4, 1841; fifth, ninety thousand acres donated for agricultural college; sixth, all swamp lands donated by act of March, 1860, and reported as such by the commissioners of the General Land Office.

As I have considered the selection of the 500,000 for common school purposes of more importance than the selection of the balance of the university lands, no university lands have been located by me. The remaining proceeds of the university lands heretofore sold have been loaned out on real estate security as the law requires (see report of the State Treasurer). There is no law authorizing the sale of university lands.

The act of Oct. 15, 1862, authorizes "the sale of school lands," which refers to the 500,000 acres, and not to the university lands. Sec. 5th of the act of Oct. 24, 1864, repeals all former laws on the subject. Such laws may be found in the General Laws of 1852, page 57—General Laws of 1853, page 39—General Laws of 1855, page 83—General Laws of 1860—page 72.

None of the ten sections for public buildings have been selected. I have no information of any salt springs worth taking, which are not now the property of private individuals.

The selection of public lands in Oregon, is necessarily attended with considerable trouble. The best and most convenient lands, have been taken by settlers under the "donation law" or under the pre-emption and homestead laws. Nevertheless, during the last four years, with what the settlers selected under the act of 1850 I have located for the State the 500,000 acres, to which the State is entitled under the act of 1841.

There has been some delay, and will be hereafter, in securing the title to the State, and through it to the claimants or persons applying to purchase from the State.

All locations by the Governor have to be arranged in lists, each bearing a separate number, in accordance with the instructions of the Commissioner of the General Land Office. These lists are then filed with the Register of the Land Office in the proper district. As all pre-emption and homestead claimants have three months time after the survey or commencement of their residence to file their proofs of occupancy and time of settlement, these lists must remain unexamined in the office of the Register for three months. Thereafter they are examined by him, compared with the maps, and approved if found correct. After approval by the Register these lists must be sent to the General Land Office for further examination and approval before the title vests in the State.

The locations made by me are included in forty-eight lists. The lists from one to eighteen inclusive, embracing 368,656 17-100 acres, have been approved by the Register and forwarded to the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The lists from 18 to 48, are on file in the Register's office, and not yet approved. Upon his examination and correction it may possibly be found that the amount located falls a little short of the 500,000 acres, but in my opinion the amount is liable to exceed that number of acres. If so, the land in excess can be passed to another class of land to which the State is entitled.

Two hundred and eighty-five persons have made written application to purchase lands, under the Act of Oct. 15th, 1862. Under the law such persons are entitled to preference, but the Commissioners of the State cannot make deeds until the locations are approved by the Commissioner of the General Land Office. When such approval is had the claimants can be notified to make payments, as the law requires, and on compliance receive their deeds.

In order to detect conflicts between applicants to purchase, and to prevent mistakes, I have found it necessary to have maps of the State lands prepared, on which are entered the lands located by the State as well as the name of the claimant. These maps are not complete, that is, all the lands located are not mapped—only those where there are the most settlers. It will be found indispensable to have maps of all the lands located.

No locations have been made for the Agricultural College. I have considered the selection of the 500,000 acres of the first importance, as our Constitution provides that the proceeds of that donation shall be invested for the support of Common Schools. The selection of good land has been difficult, heretofore as it will be hereafter. And I doubt if lands can now be selected, in any great quantity, which will ever sell for much. It may be well to consider whether or not it is best to defer any further selection of lands until the surveys are extended. I understand the time for selecting the lands for the Agricultural College, as well as the erection of a building, has been extended so that no loss will be sustained by delay.

In my late message to the Legislature, I probably should have said something about public lands, if I had not been very sick with a fever at the time it was written. Still, it has not occurred to me that any further legislation is needed on the subject, unless it is to provide by law for a State Land Commissioner, who shall have the general charge of the lands. Still, the law of Congress requires that locations shall be made by the Governor. He might, however, as well have the assistance of a Commissioner, as a person "temporarily" employed, provision for which is already made, so far as that objection goes. The Governor cannot possibly get time to visit every piece of land he proposes to locate. He must have assistance from some source. I have had the assistance of different persons, temporarily, in examining lands and making maps, and could not have located near as much land as I have without such assistance.

The expenses incurred for such assistance, since my late report on the subject, will be found in the report of the Secretary of State. I have not a statement of the amount before me.

My special message to the Legislature dated September 22d, 1864, is quite full on this subject, and I presume this statement is all that is required. There can be no necessity for repeating what I said on that occasion; it is within your reach and that of the members of the Legislature.

Perhaps I ought to add, as therein stated, that no "swamp lands" have yet been reported to this State by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and without such report or designation, none can be reported. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, A. C. GIBBS.

THE CHOLERA IN THE SOUTH.—The Louisville Journal of September 17th, says;

This dread pestilence seems to have veered almost entirely from the northern to the southern sides of the Ohio and Mississippi. It is prevailing to a frightful extent in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and portions of Kentucky. At Nashville the disease is so fatal and the cases so numerous that many families are deserting the city. We have seldom beheld a more solemn spectacle than the streets of Nashville presented on Saturday. There were over 30 deaths on the previous day and at almost every street corner slowly-moving processions were to be seen. An ominous silence brooded over the city; business seemed at an ebb, and the streets were in a manner unpeopled, save by those following mournfully on to consign their kindred or their friends to untimely graves.

Memphis, Dyersburg, and other places in West Tennessee, are in almost the same sad predicament. On Saturday there were nine new cases and six deaths from the cholera in Bowling Green. In passing that town we found the inhabitants greatly alarmed. The epidemic was introduced some six weeks ago by a company of soldiers sent from this city, one of the number having died shortly after arriving in town. Since then the local causes have operated to spread the contagion throughout the lower part of the town near the railroad depot. The type of the plague there is far deadlier than as developed here and elsewhere. Children have been the victims in most instances, and death has ensued in six hours, at the outside, after the first symptoms. Several have died after two and three hours' illness.

PAYMASTER'S TREASURE BOX FOUND.

The treasure box of Major Glenn was found yesterday morning by an Indian, on the flat east of the garrison, toward the Indian camp. The Indian who found it came to town and apprized George Rundell of the fact, and he went out and brought it in. It had been opened by taking out the screws that fastened the hinges. The duplicate vouchers or pay-rolls remained unmolested; also a large amount of postal currency, but the fifty thousand in legal tenders was missing. No further clue to the robbery is yet obtained so far as we can learn.

ALTURAS COUNTY.

Mr. Defrees came down this week from Yuba by the way of Volcano. It will be recollected we noticed the fact some weeks ago, that some prospecting was going on at the latter place. That has been progressing and the result is both satisfactory and otherwise. By assay from two to four hundred dollars per ton can be obtained, while mill process yields but ten or twelve. Cause, too much lead in the ore. They are building furnaces for the purpose of making further tests, satisfied there is plenty of metal in the ore, but how to get it out, is the question. In Yuba, matters are progressing favorably. Defrees & Baker have their saw-mill running and in about a month expect to have their quartz mill ready. They have had a tough time in getting the latter over the mountains, having to build roads for that purpose a large portion of the way. The future prospects of Yuba district are flattering as can be, considering the amount of work done. It is abundantly supplied with timber and with water, for power purposes. The canal of Dutcher & Co. is said to be a splendid piece of work, of capacity to carry the whole of Middle Boise River. It is estimated at over 900 horse power. The company has employed about fifty men most of the summer. They are opening the Greenback ledge and one or two others that prospect well. Will see to it that ore will be forthcoming in sufficient quantity when the mill is ready to start. One company is raising ore from the Atlanta. Yuba is destined to be the financial salvation of Alturas County, and next season, will be a busy and prosperous camp. The heavy snows of this winter will impede the work considerably this season, because there is so little time to prepare for it, but that will be avoided next year.

PROSPECTS FROM GREEN RIVER.

Mr. Eugene Barnard and Wm. Southall arrived last Saturday from Montana, where they have been spending the summer. Mr. Barnard furnishes us the following encouraging news, from Green river: He, together with Chas. Fox and Mr. Pool, of this place, started from Helena on the first of September, to go and prospect the country along Green river and its tributaries. In the course of a few days their party was increased to the number of forty-seven. Among the rest were Dr. Arnold, J. Winters, I. K. Fisher, and several others of Boise city, and some from Idaho. About the 20th of September, they arrived at Ft. Snyder, on the Lander road, where they met four men named Abner, Webster, Stone and Chase, on their way out from Green river, and the same locality to which the Helena party had started. These three men reported that they had been prospecting on Green river and its tributaries since July; that their provisions running short they were obliged to come out. Their boots and clothes were also worn out, and the weather had become too cold to be endured. They had their feet tied up in rags; and the snow fell an inch and a half in one night, and ice formed half an inch thick. As to their prospects, they reported having found a high table land extending some sixty miles in length by from five to twelve in width, covered with drift gravel from three to twelve feet in depth. They prospected in many places, always finding what they deemed a good prospect of very fine gold. The deepest hole they sunk was fourteen feet. This is situated on a tributary of Green river, called La Barge. Water is abundant, and the extent of ground that affords this prospect is very great. The gold, they say, seems to be generally diffused through the gravel which is not coarse, wherever they prospected. Though extremely fine and difficult to save, they are fully convinced that with the aid of quicksilver and copper, good wages can be made over a very large extent of country. They intend going back next spring. On meeting this information the Helena party, considering the lateness of the season, determined to abandon the prospect this fall, and rely upon the report of Abner, Webster and Chase, to make a new start with full preparations early next season. Forty-one of the party then went to Salt Lake to spend the winter, a few went to Helena, and Barnard and Southall came to Boise City. Mr. Barnard says that the report of the three men was fully credited by the whole party, and they separated with the intention of making a vigorous prospect next year, confident that good paying mines are there waiting development.

We clip from the Owyhee Avalanche of the 13th inst:

BONDED.

The Oro Fino & Morning Star Mining Co. have bonded its interests in the Oro Fino & Morning Star mine to J. M. More, for $200,000, the time to expire June 1st, 1867. Mr. More is going East with full expectations of disposing of the property and paying all the indebtedness hanging over it, or raise the means to reopen and work it on his own account. Mr. Gove, Superintendent of the new company, says that More has, in all things, manifested an earnest, and he believes honest desire to make the property pay the debts of the old firm, and that the company are willing to give him the time specified. If it is placed upon the Eastern market on its true merits at a just price, there can be but little doubt of his success in making the sale. We believe that an exhibit of the yield and legitimate cost of mining and milling of the ore to the date of the More & Fogus suspension, would prove the Oro Fino to be a most valuable and profitable mine. The ore is not refractory to work and can be mined cheaply.

PROSPECTING.

There is much of this labor being performed in the Owyhee mountains. In the vicinity of the Poorman a ledge was struck last week by George Vass and others, which tests high in silver and gold. We looked at it one week ago to-day. A couple of tons of quartz had been taken out, with but little labor. We have since learned that it looks much better and very fine gold is visible in considerable of the rock. The ore resembles that of the Empire. A great many men are sinking shafts and running tunnels on the south and west side of War-Eagle. We noticed, on Thursday, a party of men driving a tunnel into War-Eagle from near the head of Web-foot Gulch. A party of miners are working night and day in a prospecting tunnel penetrating the mountains on the south side of Long Gulch, about one mile above Silver.

ACQUITTED.

Daniel McIntosh, who was charged with shooting and killing Tom Canovan on the 25th of July, in a drunken, gambling melee, in Ruby City, was tried on Wednesday of this week, in the District Court, and acquitted.

HAY.

A Jordan valley rancher informs us that from twelve to fifteen hundred tons of hay have been cut and baled in the valley this summer. It is now selling at $60 per ton delivered in Ruby and Silver. It is generally well cured and in all respects good provender.

NEW MILL.

The five stamp mill of the Messrs. Black, in course of construction in Flint District, is expected to be ready to crush rock in three weeks—though the building and other portions will not be finished for some time afterwards.

GRANT ON CLYMER.—While General Grant was in Philadelphia with the President, en route to Chicago, a bread-and-butternut of that city who claimed to be a soldier, arrested him at the Continental Hotel, and introduced the subject of Pennsylvania State politics. Said the fellow to him:

"We are having a very warm canvass for Governor of this State."

"So I hear," replied Grant.

"We are very sanguine of beating Gen. Geary and electing Mr. Clymer by a handsome majority," continued the butternut.

"What makes you feel so confident?" asked the General.

"Because," said the Johnsonite, "we count on getting the larger part of the soldiers' vote for Clymer."

"I think you will be mistaken in that. Clymer is a Copperhead, and the soldier who votes for him, will disgrace himself, and the flag he fought under," was the General's reply, as he turned on his heel and walked away.

THE FIRST TELEGRAPH MESSAGE.—The first public message ever sent by electric telegraph went from Baltimore to Washington, dated the 14th June, 1844, addressed to Silas Wright, of New York, announcing the nomination by the Democratic Convention then in session in the former city, of Mr. Polk for the Presidency. A member of Congress was defeated in Indiana for re-election in consequence of his vote sustaining an appropriation of $25,000 to aid the enterprise, on the ground that "a man who could be made to believe in such a humbug was too big a fool to go to Congress."

An Excess of Valor.

The editor of the Democratic organ in this city claims to be a "public teacher and the representative of a party." Unless we question his right to these titles (which it would be dangerous to do) we must therefore suppose him deputed to speak for the party he represents. His dicta as he himself announces being entitled to full authority all are compelled to allow that the policy of his party must be just as he states it. The only thing we have to do then to ascertain the sentiments and purposes of the Democracy in this corner of the republic is to consult the writings of this Gamaliel who as he proclaims publicly is the "teacher and representative" of Democratic ideas among us. As he is the spokesman for that party, of course it is both responsible for and bound by his utterances. By his declarations whatever they may be, it is irrevocably committed to any policy he may choose to name.

By all this it has come to pass that the ancient "peace party" of this State is thoroughly committed in favor of another civil war. If it was not in favor of the last war, it certainly is of the next one. It cannot but have been noticed how exceedingly bellicose the "teacher and representative" has grown within a few weeks past. The spirit of agression resistance and general pugnacity has been cultivated within him to such an happy extent that it would evidently be an overwhelming disappointment to him should the fight not come off as advertised in the bills. It is almost melancholy to imagine what a degree of infelicity would be his, should the play he so dotes upon be, of necessity, "withdrawn to make room for other attractions." His heart is set upon witnessing the performance which Dictator Johnson, has almost as good as promised, and, it would be really cruel to defeat him of his long-cherished expectation.

In virtue of his office of "teacher and representative" of his party, he tells A. Johnson, with frequent emphasis, what he is expected to do. He (the "teacher and representative") insists with the most positive urgency that the President "must place the Southern members in Congress." The conflict, he tells us, must come, unless the Radicals yield. Such a conflict, we are also informed, "would involve the whole country in the blaze of civil war." Now it may be set down as reasonably certain that the Radicals will not yield. They are not accustomed to that sort of thing. Backed up by immense majorities at home, it is just probable that the Congress "which is hanging on the verge of the Government, as it were," and which has been hanging there for more than five years in spite of its confederated enemies, will hold its position some time longer. So then according to the "teacher and representative" there will be war immediately. "The first of December will solve the momentous question." This, it must be owned, is not a charming prospect. It is entirely too suggestive of trumpets and drums, guns and wounds, to be quite comfortable. But wait. Is there no way to avert the calamity? As the Radicals won't yield, isn't it barely possible that A. Johnson will? It isn't much to ask of him to be so accommodating as that. The opinion is very generally prevalent that he is of a disposition altogether too obliging to allow him to hold out against the persuasive appeals of his Radical friends. It is this possible compliance on the part of the "tribune," that our "teacher and representative" is afraid of. Hence the frequent hortations that go up from this quarter, urging the President to stand firm and carry out the programme which is to lead to civil war. It is evident that the "teacher and representative" considers his standard bearer a man of doubtful pluck, and not by any means so robustious as he should be. He is afraid the leader on whom all depends will show the white feather,—will surrender to the Radicals, and no war will occur after all. Discouraging prospects for the brave! Here is a party with its "teacher and representative," all spoiling for a fight. Here is valor running to waste and nobody to lead it. Here are men brave as Julius Cæsar, whose heroic designs are likely to be thwarted by the timidity of their chief commander. It seems utterly impossible for them to stimulate him to the fighting point,—though the best and most effective stimulants are freely used. This war on which the disciples of peace have so fixed their affections, is destined to fail before it begins. A. Johnson is not the man to lead the Democratic heroes against the Radicals. Our "teacher and representative" cannot possibly provoke the fight he is languishing for. Under the circumstances, wouldn't it be better for him to let his valor quietly subside?

Ben Holladay has taken the new mail contract from Salt Lake City to the Dalles. From Boise City to the Dalles, the mail will be carried by G. F. Thomas & Co., to whom Holladay has sub-let the contract. The route will probably be in operation in a week or two.

President Johnson, in his speech at Niagara Falls, recently, says the Stockton (Cal.) Independent, made use of the elegant expression that the "Union party might go to the devil." It might in 1864 for a Vice President, and have done better.

The Helena Tri-weekly Republican has been consolidated with the Post at Virginia City, Montana, and a tri weekly started.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 20.—The Eastern line is still down. The following dispatch received last night throws some light on the cause of the recent telegraphic interruptions:

SALT LAKE, Oct. 20.—Heavy storms lately have prostrated the lines badly. At the break east of Fort Mitchell, the Indians have destroyed the line for two miles. Men are on the way, and wire, poles etc. go down in the morning to the break. They hope to get it up by to-morrow evening.

In view of the number of violations of army regulations and general orders in regard to military correspondence, army officers making complaints or asking favors through irregular channels, General Halleck has ordered published the order issued by General Grant on the subject, requiring that all correspondence must be conducted through the proper official channels, except in cases of pressing necessity, which do not leave time for regular communication, and then the necessity must be stated. Officers violating this rule are liable to be arrested, and the trial for disobedience of orders is recommended to the President for dismissal.

Peter Mahan, and his wife Mary commenced suit to-day against C Greggus to recover $5,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Mahan, being run over by defendant's wagon.

The Coroner reports that Francis Parlee did not commit suicide but died of pulmonary apoplexy. He complained of feeling unwell before leaving home, and was attacked while walking by the Central railroad track.

The dead body of John McConnell, a flour packer by occupation residing at Sherwood Place near Third street was found floating in the Bay near Folsom street wharf yesterday afternoon. He had been missing from home for several days.

By the arrival of the Hidalgo from the north, we have the report of the total loss of the fine lumber brig Perpetua, which went ashore on the sand beach at the entrance to Coos Bay, during the gale and became a complete wreck. The Perpetua was owned by a Mr Simpson, of this city, and was built in Washington Territory about a year ago. All hands were saved.

OUR SALEM LETTER.

Oregon State Fair—Fourth Day

SALEM, Oct 19 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:—

The last day of the Fair has been at [illegible] though the attendance was somewhat [illegible] by the rain which fell in considerable showers during last night. The sky wore a rather threatening [illegible] but toward noon brightened [illegible] pleasant day though quite cool in the afternoon. The roads grounds and track were in excellent condition, being neither dusty or muddy.

THE RACES FOR FRIDAY.

The first contest was for [illegible] of $[illegible]—for stallions [illegible] best [illegible] harness and rule. Mr Welch entered Waterloo and Mr Acker entered [illegible] horse. The latter was [illegible] for a consideration. Both horses were experienced and [illegible]. The first mile was pronounced a dead heat [illegible] 3 07 and 3 0[illegible]. The second was [illegible], but the third Waterloo broke up badly losing ground which he was unable to recover.

The next was a walking race free to all comers for first and second premium one mile under saddle. Stephen Mays, John Downing, D W Condit, S G Massani, Mr Elliott entered. Stephen Mays horse a powerful bay at once took the lead keeping it all the way round but with a gait which the judges pronounced not a fair walk. John Downing with a bay followed next in order but his horse met with the same criticism. Mr Condit followed with his black mare which did the most honest walking of the lot winning the first premium, the second being given to Mr. Mays. Mr. Elliott rode a roan horse which either could not or would not walk and by the time he [illegible] the crowd had almost forgotten the race in the hurry of events. The time made by the winner was 10 25—not by any means fast walking.

The trotting race of Stallions for a premium of $150 single dash of five miles to harness and rule was not contested—Emigrant being the only horse entered. He made the first mile in 3.11, second in 3.10, third 3.11, fourth in 3.13, and the fifth in 3 14—total 15 59. At the conclusion of the fifth mile the driver did not take up but either through a mistake or just for [illegible] went around again, making the 6th mile in 3 10. The last half mile was the prettiest trotting done in the race. I think he could have went two or three times more in his outside time.

The running match for horse mare or gelding single dash of four miles to rule for a premium of $150—was made between Dutch [illegible] Rifleman and T M Ward's Sleepy Jake. The first mile was closely contested, Rifleman passing the stand slightly in advance in 2.13. At the end of the second mile Sleepy Jake was a little less sleepy and passed the stand ahead in 2.15. The third time around Rifleman was in the lead 2.10 and on the 4th mile he gained so considerably as to come home an easy winner, in 2.15. The total time was 8 53.

TRIAL OF EQUESTRIANISM.

No feature of the Fair attracted so much general interest as the riding by ladies for first premium of $25 and second for $10. At the time appointed the trial was announced at the Pavilion and under the lead of the Aurora Brass Band, the vast crowd proceeded to the place of trial on the open grounds within the race track. The area within which the contest was to take place though a large one was entirely surrounded by a dense throng of people apparently as anxious as though some [illegible] momentous event were about to transpire. There were nine contestants—Mrs. H H Black of Portland, Mrs Ellen Bonton, Miss Kate Burton of North Yamhill, Miss Mary Riches, of Marion county, Miss Jackson, Miss Hunt of Sublimity, Mrs. Beale, Mrs Plummer of Salem and Miss Ellen Lee of Lee & Ryland's circus troupe. Each one rode her own choice of horses and used trappings and habits to suit her own taste. The rules were explained to the contestants and thus the fair tournament began. Mrs. Bonton rode a powerful horse without saddle but it was very soon evident that she rode not the less firmly and safely. Mrs. Black rode a trotting horse which required more skill in making a graceful appearance, but she sat steadily at all paces. When she came to change horses, as all were required to do during the trial she fortunately got a galloping horse, upon which she appeared to much better advantage. Miss Burton appeared to be perfectly at home and managed her horse with a grace and skill which elicited much admiration. Mrs. Plummer, Miss Hunt and Miss Riches rode well and with but one fault in my way of thinking—a lack of care at times to hold the head erect. But here, I am getting into the criticizing business—the very thing I would avoid as the most dangerous experiments in the world where a woman is concerned. I have no desire to call down on my head the maledictions of the seven ladies who did not get premiums; I am sorry they did not succeed in riding themselves into the better graces of the committee of judges—am sorry for them individually and collectively and am willing to mingle my tears with theirs. I make this proposition, supposing each one of them is as sorry as I am. They, however, have one consolation that I have not: each one of the seven is just as certain as can be that she herself ought to have received the first premium, while I am not. But I believe I have not announced to the public who did get the premiums. Mrs. H H Black of Portland was awarded the first and Miss Kate Burton of Yamhill the second.

SHEEP AND HOGS.

I am now approaching a subject which is one of some difficulty, for I have always found owners of stock quite as testy about criticism as mothers of the sweetest babe. There is nothing for it, however but to slash away, and maybe write a tenth rate sheep or pig into notoriety and spoil the reputation of a blooded animal. I do not care to do that, and so upon reflection I won't. I will hazard my reputation for veracity however upon the statement that no country can show much finer sheep than I saw in the pens of Messrs. Lewellen & Mills, Minto, Naylor, Davidson, Roberts, Geer and others. Lewellen & Mills showed a French Merino lamb, dropped in May last, which took the first premium as the best lamb on the grounds. Their old buck, [illegible] a French Merino was the largest on the grounds and took first premium for best buck thirteen years old and upward. This animal has raised a fleece of twenty three months growth weighing forty pounds. The same parties took I don't know how many premiums first and second—premiums on bucks in this class and that class premiums on ewes and premiums on lambs, the bare attempt to understand which, put my head into such a wool gathered condition as to necessitate an abandonment of the effort. Going on I found the same true of Minto's, Davidsons', Naylors' and Roberts' sheep. Everybody had premiums of some sort and plenty of them. I couldn't help thinking in this connection of the showman's encouraging and tempting declaration that "everybody goes in (to see it) and everybody goes away well satisfied." Thinking of this I went away well satisfied that more than one man of this State had some very good sheep.

Messrs. Lewellen & Mills had on exhibition the best family of hogs on the grounds—of the Suffolk and Essex breeds. Mr. R. C. Geer exhibited the progenitor of the whole family—a hog sent out here from the States, I think by Mr. Holman, and sold by him to Lewellen & Mills and by them to Mr. Geer. One of his pigs however carried away from him the first premium. There were several other swine families of the highest respectability but I failed to make the acquaintance of the respective next friends and so I only took a respectful look and passed on.

HORSES AND CATTLE.

I encountered insurmountable difficulties in the effort to ascertain the takers of premiums in the more than a few cases. I learned almost accidentally that Mr. Welch obtained a sweepstakes premium for Waterloo for the best family of five colts. Much in the same way I learned that Mr. W. T. Murphy obtained the first premium for the best bull, three years and upward. His animal was a cross between the Short Horn and Devon. I know from seeing the ribbons attached that there were a great number of premium horses, mares, colts, cows and calves etc. but to whom they belonged or what particular merit they possessed are still mysterious to me; nobody ran after me to explain those points, and when I ran after a man to ask, I invariably found that he had exactly the same information that I had. I have no doubt each individual owner will look in the papers to find a notice of his stock, and not being able to see it will wonder nine days at the stupidity of the reporter. Let him or them learn hereafter to post cards on their stalls containing the names of owner and animal, what class he is entered in and for what he took premium. Having done that, he need not be surprised if he gets into newspaper notice.

A MISCELLANEOUS CHAPTER.

I should treat the Aurora Brass Band undeservingly if I failed to credit them with adding very materially to the enjoyment of the Fair's visitors. They tooted their horns melodiously whenever their services were wanted by the President. Hail Columbia, Yankee Doodle, or some other musical inspiration blowed artistically through their instruments, served as the signal to some new and interesting performance at the Pavilion and anon, out on the grounds. They took a first premium.

W. E. Cooper & Co. of Portland were awarded a first premium for the top carriage which I mentioned the other day.

R. C. Geer took a first premium for best show of bacon.

Buchtel of Portland was awarded a first premium for Sun Pearls.

Sarah Miller received first premium for a crayon picture, entitled "God Save my Father"—a beautiful design.

[illegible] of Portland was awarded a first premium for book binding.

POSITIVELY THE LAST CHAPTER.

I am conscious of having omitted notices of very many things which it would have given me pleasure to mention as they deserve, but there is a limit to newspaper space and another to human endurance, both of which must serve me as my excuse.

I cannot get my own consent to close this letter without an allusion to the President and other officers of the Society. While they may not in all cases have done the very best thing, they have manifested throughout this Fair, an earnest desire to say and do whatever was best calculated to secure a present and future triumph. I have not seen or heard of any real occasions for complaint at unfair treatment. As a [illegible] compliment to them I will say that your correspondent—that is me—was treated with distinguished consideration, which is perhaps an indubitable proof that they are gentlemen.

The already overgrown length of this letter precludes me from making such a [illegible] of the [illegible] and annual addresses as their practical good sense would demand. They will, without doubt, be soon published and for that reason I am less disposed to regret the omission here.

The Fair closed by official announcement on Friday evening about sun-down, but [illegible] sport. There was any amount of innocent fun and rowdyish fun [illegible] at the grounds during almost the entire night and through the following day until Saturday night at a late hour did the grounds become vacant.

During the four days of the Fair there was scarcely a single case of vicious disturbance and fortunately, there were no serious accidents.

STATE ITEMS

The Mountaineer of Friday says: The stage from Canyon City arrived last evening. No [illegible] Indians are reported on the road although on Tuesday morning last a band of eighteen Snake Indians were seen between Alkali [illegible] and the Bridge Creek House driving six American horses ahead of them. The following night they were seen at Currant Creek about eighty miles from the Dalles going in the direction of the Warm Spring reservation. They crossed the road several times, and the supposition is that they intended attacking the settlers on the creek. Several of the settlers along the road have abandoned their farms and come to the Dalles fearing longer to remain in the country. The Indians are all well armed and mounted on fine horses.

During the past week several teams left the Dalles for Owyhee loaded with apples and peaches. The former is selling for 62½ cents and the latter for 75 cents a pound in Owyhee.

OREGON LEGISLATURE

Fourth Regular Session

House

SALEM, Friday Oct 19th 1866.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. [illegible]

Journal read and approved.

On motion of Mr. GINGLES the rules were suspended [illegible] and the general appropriation bill was taken from the table.

Mr. GINGLES moved to amend by [illegible] $500 instead of $1 600 for Adjutant General's salary.

Mr. HELM moved an amendment to [illegible] substitute $400 for $500.

Mr. HENDERSHOTT offered a substitute [illegible] to be Secretary of State.

Mr. UPTON objected to [illegible] appropriation bill. Ruled [illegible]

Mr. HELM denounced the Adjutant General's office at considerable length as a public nuisance.

Mr. OLNEY expressed [illegible]

Mr. HELM's amendment to the amendment was adopted—15 ayes to 17 nays.

The amendment was then adopted, by 26 ayes to 1 nays. [illegible] several members explained their votes.

Mr. GEHR voted aye because he thought it would virtually abolish the whole military system.

Messrs. ROLAND and UPTON voted nay because they looked on this as a condemnation of the military system of the last five years [illegible]

Mr. STARKWEATHER voted nay because he would not take the law fixing the salary.

Mr. STOUFFER moved to amend by appropriating $10 000 for the improvement of grounds and building of an Insane Asylum.

Mr. NICKLIN said that the people of the entire State demanded that the asylum should be built as soon as possible and that the plan of letting the care of those unfortunates to contractors be abandoned.

The amendment was [illegible] to regulate the expenditure of the money. [illegible] appropriation would simply tie up $40 000 for the next two years, and prevent its being used for any purpose.

Ten thousand dollars was appropriated to finish the temporary Penitentiary buildings.

Mr. HICKLIN moved to amend by appropriating $5 000 to purchase the right to use the Gardener shackle. After some discussion the amendment was lost by 30 ayes to 12 nays. The bill then passed by 34 to 5.

Mr. HENDERSHOTT reported the bill to provide for the sale of school lands and to distribute the income of the common school fund correctly engrossed and on motion of Mr. OLNEY it was taken up and after an explanation by Mr. STARKWEATHER unanimously passed.

The following bills were acted upon:

To repeal the act to organize Josephine County. Passed by 35 to

To amend the act for the support of the poor. Ordered engrossed.

To limit the penalties of official bonds of officers of certain counties. Passed.

To aid the construction of the Oregon Central Railroad.

To amend the charter of Oregon City. Lost 10 ayes to 33 nays.

At 12 M., the Senate joined the House in convention pursuant to resolution.

Messrs. I. S. Willis, C. Fullerton, J. M. Baltimore, C. M. Sartell, — Cranston, — Thurston, R. H. Hatch were nominated for State Librarian. On the [illegible] ballot Hatch received 22 votes, Thurston 19 and Willis 2. Accordingly Mr. Hatch was declared duly elected.

J. H. Couch, W. F. Kilbur and James Taylor were then elected Pilot Commissioners for Astoria, and the convention adjourned sine die.

At 1 P. M. the House adjourned till 2 P. M.

AFTERNOON.

By unanimous consent the Senate bill to tax and protect Chinamen mining in the State was taken up and under a suspension of the rules it passed—24 ayes to 33 nays.

Pending the final passage of this bill the SPEAKER announced that the House was without a quorum. He thought the House might as well quit trying to do business if members were disposed to neglect their duties in this manner.

On motion of Mr. GINGLES a call of the House was ordered. Absent, 19 members; leaving three less than a quorum.

Mr. GARLICK moved that the Sergeant-at-Arms be despatched for the absentees.

Several members then came in and took their seats making a quorum.

Mr. LORING, by unanimous consent, called up the Senate bill for the relief of Baker County from expenses incurred in its organization. Under suspension of the rules, the bill passed by 31 ayes to 1 nay.

The following bills were acted upon, namely:

To provide for the registration of soldiers bounty bonds. Passed unanimously.

To provide for certain contingent expenses of the Legislative Assembly. Read a second time and ordered engrossed.

Mr. HUMASON moved to adjourn. Lost.

Mr. HUMASON asked unanimous consent to call up the bill to organize Lincoln County. Referred.

On motion of Mr. UPTON, the House proceeded with the regular business.

The bill to define the causes of divorce and to regulate suits in courts therefor was passed 25 ayes to 7 nays.

The bill to change the time of making assessments was lost by 22 ayes to 10 nays—24 votes being necessary to the passage of a bill.

Several bills were returned from the Senate with slight amendments in which the concurrence of the House was asked.

The Senate joint resolution to adjourn sine die at 5 o'clock P. M. on to-morrow was read and on motion of Mr. Humason, amended by striking out the words "5 o'clock P. M." The resolution so amended was then concurred in by 25 ayes to 4 nays.

Mr. SMITH called up a bill to incorporate the city of Scio. Under suspension of the rules the bill was read a first and second time.

On motion of Mr. HUMASON, adjourned to 7 o'clock P. M.

EVENING.

The Speaker asked and obtained unanimous consent of the House to employ such additional clerical assistance as may be necessary during the remainder of the session. S. A. Clark, Esq., of Salem was sworn in as additional clerk.

The Speaker announced the question before the House to be on the passage of the bill to incorporate the city of Scio.

A call of the House was ordered and the following gentlemen found absent: Cole, Dodge, Garrett, Gehr, Hall, Hendershott, Hinsdale, Locey, Lockhart, Loring, Ross, Starkweather, Upton, White and Whittaker—17. No quorum—3[illegible] being necessary to the transaction of business and only 30 being present.

The Sergeant at Arms was despatched for absentees.

Mr. NICKLIN moved that a committee of 25 be sent after the absentees.

Mr. OLNEY. I hope no report will be made of this matter. It is now too late in the session for trifling.

The SPEAKER declined to entertain the motion.

Mr. HUMASON suggested that as the joint committee on enrolled bills was absent it might be well to appoint a committee pro tem. Messrs. Humason, Day and Hinsdale were appointed such committee.

Mr. AVERY moved to adjourn till ten o'clock at night.

The SPEAKER declined to entertain the bill pending the call of the House.

On motion of Mr. BAIRD the Speaker was authorized to issue warrants authorizing the sergeant-at-arms to bring the absent members in and directing the sergeant-at-arms to search the Fair Grounds for such members.

At 9 o'clock a quorum being announced the House proceeded to business. The following bills were acted upon:

To incorporate the city of Scio. Passed—26 ayes to 6 nays.

The Senate bill in relation to forcible entry and detainer under suspension of the rules was read and passed.

The Astoria pilot bill passed unanimously.

The Senate bill to regulate the foreclosure of chattel mortgages under suspension of the rules, passed unanimously.

The Senate bill appropriating $1 000 for the relief of Mrs. Mary Jane Hart of Umatilla county, passed—25 ayes to 1 nay.

The bill in relation to fences was lost—8 ayes to 23 nays.

The Senate joint memorial asking Congress to open the Umatilla Reservation to settlement by the whites after removing the Indians was adopted unanimously.

The bill to defray the expenses of the contested cases was passed.

The bill to protect unincorporated towns and villages was lost—13 ayes to 8 nays. Mr. HUMASON said that the existing law covers the case.

The bill in relation to hogs and fences was reconsidered, amended and passed unanimously.

The Senate bill for the relief of Cyrus A. Reed was read first time, and after some discussion indefinitely postponed by a vote of 19 to 13.

The bill to authorize the purchase of a safe for the use of the State passed unanimously.

Mr. STOUFFER offered a resolution to send Dr. A. M. Loryea for two or three gallons of beer.

The bill to aid the Astoria and Tillamook Road Company passed unanimously.

The bill to amend the law in relation to the care of the poor passed unanimously.

At midnight on motion of Mr. KNISELY, the House took a recess till 8 o'clock A. M. of the 20th.

SALEM, SATURDAY, Oct. 20, 1866.

The following bills were passed, namely:

To authorize towns, cities and counties to aid in the construction of public improvements.

To aid the Corvallis and Aquina Bay Road Company.

To authorize the purchase of missing numbers of books to complete the files in the public library.

To provide for the registration of the property of married women. Also other local bills.

The general appropriation bill was returned from the Senate with amendments to appropriate $1 600 for the Adjutant General's salary, $500 to purchase the right to use the Gardener shackle, and $50 000 for penitentiary building fund, all of which the House refused to concur. Subsequently a committee of conference agreed to strike out the penitentiary fund and retain the other Senate amendments, which agreement was acceded to by the House.

The greater portion of the evening was occupied in attempting to fix upon Mr. Dolph the guilt of having purloined H. B. Nos. [illegible] and 38 to prevent their passage. A committee appointed on motion of Mr. HUMASON reported that there was no foundation for the suspicion against Mr. Dolph, [illegible] witnesses were examined in regard [illegible] the Senate that the bills had never been out of the possession of the Senate, a resolution was adopted dismissing the matter as entirely without foundation.

At 11 P. M. adjourned sine die.

[Full reports to-morrow.—REPORTER.]

Martha Washington Hair Restorer is a wonder of the world. [illegible] Only try it and be convinced.

PICTURES AT THE FAIR.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 89 First Street, sent up PICTURES to the State Fair this year. Those who saw there are [illegible] to those beautiful SUN PEARLS, PHOTOGRAPHS, PEARL AMBROTYPES etc. which are daily produced at their GALLERY. As these gentlemen did not compete for a premium the fact of any one getting it will have no weight as to superiority. The public seem to be satisfied where to obtain the best. Pictures taken equally well under a cloudy or clear sky.

GOOD NEWS FROM MONTANA.—From the appearance of the miners who are returning from Blackfoot and the other mining districts of Montana we should judge that at the mines they turned out remarkably well, as they invariably make a large deposit of the color at the St. Louis Store No. 111 Front street and receive an ample equivalent of course in the shape of excellent clothing such as Messrs. KOHN & FISHEL always keep. Everybody can be suited both as to style and quality, and strictly at San Francisco prices.

PORTLAND ACADEMY AND FEMALE SEMINARY.—Pupils are admitted at any time and are charged only for the remainder of the Quarter.

Brown, for being drunken and disorderly at the ... Hotel.—Two Chinamen were arrested, charged with stealing 7 pair pants from the store of Barman. Mr. Barman noticed the pants were missing on the evening of the 19th inst., and at noon on the 20th ... Mr. Barman noticed a Chinaman with a pair of the pants on. They had the Chinaman arrested, and the officers went to the Chinaman's house for the purpose of searching the house to which the Chinaman had directed them. In arriving at the house the proprietor informed them that he had been wrongly directed, and that the officer had no connection with the wash-house ... The man went to the jail with the officer and recognized the prisoner as a denizen of a house on Taylor street. The officers searched the house and found nothing. The officers then determined to search every house on the street, and all the Chinamen they met. While examining ... the attention of the officers was directed to a Chinaman who was passing down the street and appeared anxious to avoid observation, who when he saw ... hastened away. He was followed and ... when a bundle was taken from him which, on being opened, revealed four pair of pants which were identified by Barman as his property. The Chinaman was obliged to keep the first one company in the city jail, as he is in the same fix. What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works:

PORTLAND, Oct. 18th, 1866

TO THE OREGON IRON WORKS

Gentlemen.—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring, for Pen d'Oreille Lake has been in operation during the past season, and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men we turn out from three to four thousand feet and with five men five thousand feet per day of ten hours, and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.
READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH: But how? you ask;
We answer, tis an easy task.
Strength the STOMACH and sustain
The NERVES the servants of the brain
The LIVER keep in active play,
And regulate from day to day
Each organ aid on Nature's plan
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN
And like a watch that keeps its chime
By constant care with railroad time
The system ... renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits too.
How you inquire can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, we reply
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation either of the past or the present time has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors fowl prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories and the baleful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore armed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Dyspepsia's pangs that rack and grind
The body and depress the mind
Agues that as they go and come
Make life a constant martyrdom,
Colics and dysentric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Billious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that came ...
Cured by destructive mercury,
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia fever and ague billous complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too,
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet marshy ground,
To feeble wives of fragile mould,
To young and middle aged, and old,
To these in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS
Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 631 FRONT ST
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions. The sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favoral le opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

President or King?

The following pungent article is from the New York Tribune. Of its authorship there can be no doubt. It is the genuine Horatian and no mistake.

There is a little passage in Mr. Seward's speech at Bath Creek on the [illegible] inst. which is deserving of even a late attention. "Do you want Andrew Johnson President or King?" asked the Premier. What Mr. Seward meant exactly we do not pretend to know, for he has said a great many odd things since he started upon his travels, but for ourselves, putting this and that together, we can only interpret this utterance as a threat, especially as the population of Bath Creek does not appear to have been in a very amiable mood. In fact, at the time there was a pretty little game of bullying going on upon both sides, into the spirit of which the President or King immediately entered, asking the citizens how they could be so lost to propriety as not to treat him like a gentleman! After this interrogatory, the report says that there was "more disturbance," but the train moved on without any popular resort to ancient eggs or to cats departed this life.

After this expressive hint and some others dropped upon different occasions both by the Master and the Man, it cannot be held that the people of the United States have not had sufficient warning of the fate awaiting them should they misbehave themselves; and for aught we know a first rate Broadway house may have already received an order to purchase the crown jewels. "I am the State," said Louis XIV; and although our Andrew is quite incapable of putting his thought into a shape so terse and epigrammatic, all the world can see that his egotism is just the quality which never deserts him. He is the first person, singular number and nominative case wherever he goes or whatever he is doing. He is nothing if not a Monsieur Veto, like poor, foolish Louis XVI. Like other kings he is always talking about himself; what he has done, what he is doing, what he means to do, and what Congress cannot make him do. Other Presidents have vetoed bills, but no President ever before made such a parade of his authority. He has a confused notion of doing something decisive, of executing some kind of coup d'etat, of chastising Congress in some dreadful way not clearly defined, and so he meanders up and down the land as if he were a separate estate of the realm, omnipotent, omniscient, and (by virtue of railways) omnipresent. This, it must be owned, is a dulcet fix for the great Republic to have got into.

We are quite willing to admit that if the Constitution of the United States confers upon one man unlimited, sole and irresponsible power, it makes but small difference whether we call him a King or a President. If we are to have the thing, the title is not of the least consequence. If there be no remedy for the present state of things, let us, in the name of consistency and common sense, have a coronation instanter, with holy oil, globe and scepter, and other necessary ingredients and apparatus. And what a Court King Andy will have! The Duke of Auburn!—delicious! Weed, Lord Bishop of Albany!—exquisite! Sir Henry Raymond, Bart—enchanting! It is easy to see what fiddle Congress will play when all these regal arrangements are completed, and instead of a plain President and six clerks, we have a real living monarch, (bless his Majesty!) with a regular "Ministry" to match.

We hope that nobody will think that we are making game of an august personage. A man who can create and destroy States, who claims by Executive fiat to keep out of the Union this Commonwealth and to let in the other, who dictates laws entirely out of his own head, and who of his mere motion can repeal laws enacted by the Representatives of the whole people, should be called by some title more sonorous and impressive than that of President. We even have our doubts about that of King. 'Emperor' is rather more satisfactory and mouth filling, of course. Of course other adjectives of courtesy would be employed, such as High, Mighty, Excellent, Serene, Puissant—anything, in fact, expressive of a determination and a power to have one's own way, nemine contradicente, or contradicting only to be carried to the lock up, and kept there until subdued and humble. President or King? We are astonished that the astute Secretary, under the circumstances, should ask such a question. King, if not Emperor, by all manner of means!

Rough on A. J.—A Bragging Tailor Sewed up—Letter from a Soldier's Widow

The Philadelphia Press publishes a letter from a soldier's widow of that city to President Johnson, in answer to that portion of his Cleveland speech in which he asked his audience—"Who made greater sacrifice to the war than I?" "Who suffered more than I?" etc., and submits to the just judgment of the world whether on the score of sufferings and sacrifices his claims to popular sympathy and support bear any comparison to hers. She says:

"Before the rebellion, sir, I had a husband, kind, loving, industrious, economical, who for myself and our four little ones made a comfortable provision. Our home was the abode of peace and plenty. What has become of him? He was starved to death at Andersonville, and that by the 'chivalric' men whom your 'policy' would fain restore, without repentance, to the head of our Government. Since then I have been trying my best to earn bread for my little ones by playing the needle. At times, when that kind of employment failed me, I have been obliged to stand, from early morn till night, over the wash tub. I had two brothers, steady men, kind and generous. Had the rebellion left them as it found them, pinching poverty I should have never known. Alas! alas! one of them perished from exposure and want on Belle Island, and the other had his right arm taken off by a rebel shell at Antietam. He cannot assist me. The privations and hardships I have had to endure have so shattered my own health and strength that I feel at times unable even to endure the fatigue of playing the needle. So that, except my trust in a merciful God, I have sacrificed to my country my all—husband, brother, house, home, living—and I am cast, a beggar, on the cold charity of the world. And all this I owe to the Southern slaveholders, and to their iniquitous attempt to murder my beloved country, as they did murder my husband and my brother.

"Now, Mr. Johnson, since you invite a comparison, what have you suffered? Exhibit your scars, and wounds, and bruises! Did you lose a leg or an arm, or were you even so much as scratched or bruised? Where is the blood you shed? Would it stain a white cambric pocket handkerchief? How much property did you lose? Why, if report speaks true, during most of the time of the war you were living on the "fat of the land" in Nashville, out of harm's way, protected, as you were, by Union bayonets. Out of Uncle Sam's overflowing commissary stores you drew plenty to eat and to drink—the best of meats and, what was of still more consequence to you, the choicest of liquors. Add this to your handsome salary as Military Governor. Then the great Union party, whom you have so foully betrayed, made you Vice President, with a salary of $8,000 per annum. Then, to crown it all, John Wilkes Booth made you President, and there you are yet to the tune of $25,000 a year, with "fixins." The rebellion found you, I learn, comparatively a poor man. Now you are rich, with a sound body, not to speak of your mind, whose soundness is uncertain.

"You, Andrew Johnson, talk of your sacrifices and your sufferings, and challenge a comparison. Fie! fie! upon you! Why, sir, upon that score I ought to be America's Queen, and you ought to be sweating over the wash tub! And now, sir, are your questions as to who suffered more than you, who sacrificed more than you by reason of the war answered? I did, sir, and I know of hundreds of poor women, tossed from the heights of affluence into the vale of penury and want, who have suffered and sacrificed ten thousand times more than you, and are making no ostentatious parade of it either. Yours respectfully,

MARY JANE CATHERWAITE.

A soldier's widow, and the mother of four fatherless children.

AN ANCIENT REVOLVER.—In the historical collection of Dresden is an object of great interest—a perfect revolving pistol more than two hundred years old—no antiquated half made rough rudimentary affair, but as thoroughly finished a pistol as were the Toledo and Damascus blades of older date. It is of the same size as a Colt's revolver, and not only where the revolving barrels of precisely the same structure, size and shape, but they were six in number. The only point of inferiority was that in this there is no spring to bring up the next barrel when one is fired—it must be done with the hand. Colonel Colt was shown the pistol when in Europe, shortly before his death. His face was very expressive when he saw his own invention applied more than two centuries since. Of course the lock was flint, and yet, being a revolving lock, it was packed away in very small space, and the whole aspect of the pistol was as neat and attractive as any modern revolver. There is also another fire arm still more interesting. It is a Whitworth gun perfect in every respect excepting that the bore is square instead of six sided. Truly there is nothing new under the sun.

Railway official—You'd better not smoke, sir.
Traveler—That's what my friends say.
Railway official—But you mustn't smoke, sir.
Traveler—So my doctor tells me.
Railway official (indignantly)—But you shan't smoke, sir.
Traveler—Ah! just what my wife says.

FROM VICTORIA.

We have the Colonist to the 13th inst., from which we extract as follows:

OPPENHEIMER & CO.

Messrs. Oppenheimer & Co. came to an arrangement with their creditors on Saturday to pay 50 cents on the dollar, and the business will be carried on by the firm under the supervision of three trustees.

PUT BACK.

The steamer Transport, built on Puget Sound for the Sacramento River trade, which left on Sunday week under fore and aft canvass for San Francisco, sprang a leak off Cape Classet, and finding that the pumps could not keep her free put back to this port, where she arrived on Saturday. The captain says the craft behaved very well in a sea way, and proved a good and dry sea boat considering the nature of her build.

ANOTHER HIGHWAY MURDER AT CARIBOO.

Another murder by highwaymen is just reported from Cariboo. George Gibson, a Danish packer, while on his way across Bald Mountain from Cedar Creek with a train of twenty five pack animals, was shot through the head and instantly killed by robbers. The animals wandered off in every direction. The dead man is believed to have had a large amount of gold dust in his possession when killed, all of which was taken. Parties started out from Williams Creek to bring the body in on the 1st inst.

BIG BEND.

Mr. D. F. Adams arrived from Big Bend on Saturday evening and reported that Nabby Jack and Johnny Bing had discovered a new creek about 100 miles south of the steamboat landing on the Columbia which prospected 25 and 50 cts to the pan of dirt. Provisions in the Big Bend country were rising, packing from Seymour across the divide was fifteen cents per pound, and the last storm probably closed the trail for the season. The remains of one of the men who lost his life by the upsetting of a boat in Death Rapids, last spring, were found about two weeks ago in the Columbia. Little was left besides the bones and a few shreds of clothing, the remains were not recognized. A few men remained on the creeks. Several shallow claims paid well, but were nearly worked out. The Fort Vale shaft on McCullough creek is regarded as the one that will test the diggings. The bed rock has been reached and found pitching. The steamer Marten, while towing timber for a wharf, ran on a rock and sustained some damage.

A Story of Wonderful Discoveries—360 Buried Cities.

An English civil engineer, named Johnson, lately engaged in the trigonometrical survey of Cashmere, has made a curious report of what he saw and heard in Chinese Turkestan—a part of the world long inaccessible to Europeans. He says that while measuring and triangulating, last year, at a remote situation on the borders of Cashmere, he received an invitation to visit the new ruler of Khotan, who had expelled the Chinese from his province, declared his independence, and determined to enter into friendly relations with the nearest British officer within reach. The adventurous Johnson being the handiest, the King forthwith requested his presence at the capital Ilchi. The way thither lay across the Kuen Lun chain of mountains by a difficult pass at an elevation of 19,000 feet—three miles and a half. It was a hard journey, but the indefatigable Johnson pushed on, saw the Khan, stayed with him for four days, heard some very wonderful stories and then made his way back by the Himalayan passes, resisting the Khan's inclination to hold him as a hostage for the opening of commercial relations with England.

It is said that although German travelers have previously crossed the high mountains which hem in Khotan, no European has ever before entered Ilchi, the capital. The Khan is described as a natural King of men and of the Carlyse pattern, 80 years old, six feet high, stout, of a fair complexion, and altogether a goodly specimen of the old Turkish gentleman such as he was in the days before Ottomans were heard of. He rules a province of 250,000 inhabitants, whereof his capital contains 40,000—fine, strong men, and short, but pretty women, fair and cleanly in apparel and dressing well, all Turks and Mohammedans, great eaters of meats and drinkers of tea, carrying on a considerable trade in the face of great difficulties, and most anxious to trade with the English in particular. The country, well watered by moderate showers, and irrigated from the rivers which flow northward from the Kuen Lun, is fertile and productive enough to stand a comparison with Cashmere itself, but its climate is described as being much superior, both dry and equable.

The reports brought back by Mr. Johnson are somewhat Munchausenish. For instance:

1. The fertility of the country is increased by a fine impalpable dust or mould, which is wafted in from the adjacent deserts, "without wind, in perfect calm, and fills the air so as to darken it." This phenomenon occurred during Mr. Johnson's visit, and he was then unable to read print at noon without a candle. It is not explained how the dust is blown without a wind, but Mr. Johnson says it is "wafted in a calm," and he cannot be contradicted.

2. The storms in the desert raise waves of sand which settle into hills 300 to 400 feet high. Why not 1,000 feet?

3. The tradition of the country is that 360 cities were overwhelmed in one day by sand storms. The sites of these cities are partially known, so there is a vast army of Pompeiis and Ninevehs awaiting somebody's pickax, shovel and archæological skill.

4. The people of these buried towns used gold coins weighing four pounds each—but "this is kept a profound secret by those who know the position." There is no relic of the Brobdignagian purses in which this money was carried about for every-day use.

5. "The store of tea used for the actual consumption of the people, is now dug out of one of these ruined 'cities,'" and Mr. Johnson brought a brick of this tea away with him. "The Chinese supply is now cut off," so the Ilchians cut off their supply from these bricks.

We are further informed that the country in which these wonderful things happened is highly auriferous—a remark which is perhaps unnecessary, when we remember the four pound gold coins which seem to have been the circulating medium. Mr. Johnson's report is about to be published in London. An appropriate vignette would be a drawing of a long bow.—N. Y. Post.

UNITED STATES BRANCH MINT FOR CARSON CITY, NEVADA.—The design for this building, by A. B. Mullet, Esq., supervising architect for the Treasury Department, has been completed and adopted, as well it might be, combining as it does all the requisite accommodations conveniently arranged, of an excellent and appropriate style, and will be economical and durable in construction. The style is a modified Italian, with narrow, circular headed windows, coupled on front and bracketed cornice. It is of stone, the walls cyclopean or irregular stones, with a base and belt course, porch, steps, quoined angles, window dressings, etc., of dressed stone. Its entire length is 76 feet 6 inches by a mean breadth of 60 feet. A centre of 51 feet breadth (with entrance porch of 24 by 15 feet) pedimented, the windows in pairs. This part is surmounted by a square observatory, 13 feet above the pediment, and lit by four narrow circular headed windows, in keeping with those below. The building is 36 feet in height to cornice, and 46 feet to apex of the pediment.

The plans show a basement skillfully devised for the accommodation of the heating apparatus, fuel storage rooms, etc. The principal floor is conveniently laid off into annealing and melting apartments, furnaces, vaults, coining and weighing rooms, and offices of the coiner, treasurer, etc. A large engine room in the rear. The second floor has the refinery or a large room occupying nearly one-half the space of the central building, and superintendent's and assayer's offices, a cabinet, assay room, store rooms, clerk's and watchmen's rooms and all necessary conveniences. The general appearance of the elevation is pleasing, though simple, and the proportions are good, and altogether, may be said to represent a neat, substantial and appropriate building.—Washington Chronicle.

Medical.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,
Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,
GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS attended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons intending to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once braced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man. He stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in a gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Try IT in these cases and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back, and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.
